NEGOTIATORS SEEK TO END PHONE STRIKE

Federal Mediators Try Anew to Settle Dispute That Has Idled Thousands of Workers

NEW STRATEGY LOOMS

BULLETIN
New York, Nov. 10—(AP)—Striking telephone equipment workers abruptly withdrew picket lines from some exchanges across the country today in an apparent launching of a new "push button" strike tactic. Idea of the strategy, as described by union spokesmen, was to employ surprise picketing concentrating lines in some places, not in others, and picketing on some days and not on other days.

New York, Nov. 10—(AP)—Talk of "jamming" the nation's telephone system was in the air today as a coast-to-coast strike of phone equipment workers went into its second day.

There were moves to urge strikers and their friends to "jam" local and long distance circuits by placing one useless call after another.

Federal mediators sought anew to settle the dispute which has idled many thousands of workers, including operators, and disrupted service in some areas.

In a side angle of the national walkout, 16,000 telephone employees in Michigan put their local strike on a "hit-and-run" basis.

There was no official indication that this strategy would be adopted in the coast-to-coast walkout.

The "hit-and-run" move in Michigan was disclosed today in Detroit by the state strike leader, Walter Schaar, president of Division 15 of the CIO communications Workers of America (CWA).

Schaar said employees of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company would "leave the job at unexpected moments and return when not expected" in a move to keep the management "off balance."

Schaar said the Michigan strike strategy was not connected with the national strike of 17,000 CWA members against the Western Electric Company (WE). Both strikes started yesterday after deadlocks in negotiations over wages and other issues.

A similar plan of action was reported in Ohio where strikers planned to concentrate picketing in different cities each day. Yesterday, they picketed at Akron, Kent and Cincinnati, ignoring other offices of the Bell system and independent telephone companies.

Dial telephone service was only minutely affected by the coast-to-coast strike.

Pittsburghers Still Trying To Catch Up On the News About Tuesday's Election

Pittsburgh, Nov. 10—(AP)—Most Pittsburghers know today who won Tuesday's elections—but many in this city without newspapers had to scrounge for the information.

One businessman who still hadn't caught up with all the election news declared:

"Here it is two days after election and I still don't have the complete picture."

"I pick up something from the radio when I'm able to listen. I get other information from friends. But I still don't know who won the New York mayoral race."

The 40-day shutdown of Pittsburgh's three regular newspapers by a strike of mailing room employees has made news a scarce commodity for 2,000,000 regular readers.

Despite the absence of the morning Post-Gazette and the afternoon Sun-Telegraph and Press, many residents are keeping up with the major news via the radio.

Another news medium in Pittsburgh is the Daily Reporter, an eight-page daily started by unions representing 2,500 newsmen furloughed by the strike.

Publishers of the three strike-bound newspapers meet again today with representatives of the 200 striking mailers on wage talks.

Yesterday a meeting of publishers and idle truckers broke up with no progress reported.

Pittsburgh's department stores are feeling the pinch of the strike.

NUMBERS UP!

Pittsburgh, Nov. 10—(AP)—State police arrested six men and seized $75,000 in numbers slips, $1,300 in cash and five adding machines in a raid yesterday on a home in the Hazelwood section. W. Denning Stewart, special deputy attorney general conducting a grand jury probe of the city government, said the police found the men in the basement of the house totalling up the day's business.

Speculation Running High In Harrisburg Over Anticipated Appointments In Fine Cabinet

Harrisburg, Nov. 10—(AP)—Speculation ran high in state capitol circles today following Governor-elect John S. Fine's announcement that he has decided on some cabinet appointments.

Fine said at his home in Nanticoke last night that he has made up his mind on some cabinet members but is not ready to release the names.

Some announcements may be made before the end of next week when he goes to Florida for a vacation, Fine added.

The former superior court judge said he already had given "considerable thought" to cabinet appointments prior to his 90,000-vote victory over Richardson Dilworth, Democratic candidate, in Tuesday's election.

"I expected to be elected," he said, "the responsibilities of the governor of a great state like Pennsylvania, the arsenal of Democracy, are so weighty I could not help but have definite ideas beforehand of my administration."

In some quarters, it was believed that Fine would reappoint Secretary of Highways Ray F. Smock, Secretary of Agriculture Miles Horst, Adjutant General Frank A. Weber and State Police Commissioner C. M. Wilhelm.

Reported for other polls in the Fine administration, although not necessarily in their present posts were Secretary of Revenue Otto F. Messner, Secretary of the Commonwealth Gene Smith, Secretary of Labor and Industry William H. Chesnut, secretary of Welfare William C. Brown and Secretary of Forests and Waters Milo F. Draemel.

One major change in a high state office appeared in the office when State Sen. M. Harvey Taylor indicated he will take over the duties of Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler as Lieutenant-Governor.

Whether Strickler is ousted as Lieutenant-Governor is up to the State Justice Department which must rule on whether he is eligible due to his recent entry into the army with the federalized 28th Infantry Division. A section of the state constitution intimates that a high state official cannot hold a federal post.

Attorney General Charles J. Margolli said in New York last night that he will make a ruling (Turn to Page Ten)

Federal prosecutors have indicated that they want to bring Collozo to trial before the end of this month, but Leo A. Rorer, Washington attorney named to defend Collozo, interposed an objection to any speedy time-schedule.

The charge is based on the killing of Leslie Coffelt, 40, White House guard, when Collozo and Griselo Torresola tried to shoot their way into Blair House, the president's temporary residence.

Torresola was killed in the rain of bullets from guards which felled Collozo with wounds in the chest and shoulder.

Conviction of murder carries the possibility of a death sentence in the District of Columbia.

From the stories of eye-witnesses, there is some evidence Torresola actually shot Coffelt. But under District of Columbia law when two or more persons engage in a felony and kill someone, all are considered equally liable to charges of murder.

The jury also is to inquire into any conspiracy angles which may be developed as a result of secret service investigation of the assassination attempt.

DEMAND FAST DISCUSSION OF KOREAN CASE

U. N. Council Urged By United States To Move as Rapidly as Possible to Halt Intervention

SEE LENGTHY DEBATE

Lake Success, Nov. 10—(AP)—The United States is expected to call on the U. N. Security Council today to move "as rapidly as it can" to prevent Chinese Communist intervention in Korea from spreading the conflict.

With the backing of Britain and France, the American delegation will ask the Council to go ahead with its discussion of the Korean case without waiting for the arrival of Chinese Communist representatives.

Russia already has served notice she will fight all consideration of the question until the Chinese Reds have been brought before the Council and given a chance to answer the charges made against them by Gen. MacArthur, U. N. commander in Korea, and the American delegation.

Today's council meeting, originally was called to consider the Palestine case. Addition of the Korean question is expected to set the stage for a lengthy argument over the agenda. Such a wrangle could prevent the Council from coming to grips with the Korean issue this afternoon.

The United States will try to prevent such a development. Informants said Britain, France and Ecuador had joined the United States in sponsorship of a Korean resolution to be put before the Council. The proposal was understood to include these main points:

1. A demand for withdrawal of alien forces—Chinese Communists—fighting beside the North Korean Reds.

2. A call on all nations to refrain from helping the North Koreans.

3. A request for the United Nations' Korean committee to consider urgently all questions connected with the North Korean frontier.

San Bernardino, Calif., Nov. 10—(AP)—Fire fanned by a 50-mile wind raced through a sparsely settled residential district in the Sierra foothills on the city's north edge today, forcing hundreds of residents to flee.

Firemen said they thought they had the blaze controlled after a four-hour fight, but in the confusion could not give an accurate estimate of the number of homes destroyed.

It had varied during the early morning from "dozens" to "hundreds" to six, police said.

The winds swept stinging sands in the faces of some 300 firefighters and carried embers for over a mile. At one point, the fire jumped eight blocks, setting a roof afire.

All the city's fire equipment, some 30 trucks, plus help from nearby communities of Redlands, Colton and Rialto, ranged along the fire line.

San Bernardino's northern sector runs into the mountains, and it was there that the fire started, apparently from a power line blown down by the near gale.

For a half-dozen blocks just below where the mountains start their steep ascent to mile-high Lake Arrowhead, the district is largely brush-covered.

Residents, many in night dress, grabbed garden hoses to wet down roofs. Fire officials said typical California stucco construction, largely fireproof, and the fact that many homes have tile roofs

Reynosa, Mexico, Nov. 10—(AP)—A young Texan who entered a lion's den to "pet the cats" was killed by an African lion.

The youth was identified as Eugene G. Terry, 23, who lives on a farm near San Juan, Tex.

Two friends of Terry—Mickey Whitley of McAllen and George Cameron of Edinburg—said a young female lion jumped on Terry when he flashed a flashlight in her face early yesterday morning.

The lions were in a concrete and iron barred cage at the rear of a night club.

Edward Benet, U. S. consul, said from his investigation he believed Terry died from a large gash on the head, received when the lion knocked him to the floor and he struck a ledge.

Cameron said he and Whitley begged Terry not to go into the cage.

Usual Armistice Day Exercises To Be Staged At Monument At Eleven O'Clock

With the VFW and American Legion posts sponsoring the event Armistice Day will be observed in the usual manner in Warren, highlighted by a brief memorial program at eleven o'clock at the soldiers and sailors monument in Pennsylvania avenue at Hickory street. In the evening both organizations will meet with auxiliaries in their respective quarters for dinner and programs.

At the monument the commanders of both the VFW, Al Arnold, and the American Legion, Bill Lundahl, will participate in the program, along with the Legion firing squad and drill team. Floral tributes will be laid at the base of the monument in memory of Warren county men and women who gave their lives in defense of their country. The exercises will be broadcast over radio station WNAE.

Since this is a community activity every resident of Warren and vicinity is cordially urged to be present for the exercises.

In the evening the American Legion will have a dinner followed by a dance. The VFW will have a dinner and program with Chester Zerbe, Erie, past commander of the Department of Pennsylvania, former Warren resident, delivering the principal address. The program will be followed by dancing.

Armistice Day is a holiday for the banks, state liquor stores, federal and state offices, as well as offices in the court house. The retail stores will close from 10:45 until 11:30.

In observance of Armistice Day, the Warren Players Club is co-operating with the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars in presenting a radio play over WNAE, Saturday afternoon at 1:30.

Part of the program will feature short addresses by Albert Arnold, commander of the VFW, expecting to hear that Lou Boud-

Beatty teachers will be in their respective classrooms from 7:15 to 8:15 p. m., to give visitors the opportunity of personal conference and becoming better acquainted.

Students will conduct parents and friends in their tour of the building, visiting the shops, home economics department, gymnasium, music and art rooms, the library and the auditorium.

Immediately following the conference period, a movie, "The Sixth Chair," will be shown in the auditorium and later, pupils will have a party in the gym. Adult visitors are cordially invited to remain and enjoy this show.

East street building had a record turnout for its open house, held from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. Thursday, with approximately 600 visitors greeting the teachers. New textbooks and work of students were on display, including several special projects in the kindergarten through sixth grade enrollment. While parents visited with the instructors, pupils served as aides to guide visitors through the building and explain the exhibits.

Members of several local electrical workers' unions who are donating to services as a community project, will start during the weekend placing the carnival lights that will feature Warren's Christmas decoration program this year. They are to be erected at seven intersections in the business districts, and it is possible there will be additional lighting on the Hickory street bridge, at Poplar and Pennsylvania avenue west, and at the intersection of Second and Pennsylvania avenue.

Carl Lundahl, chairman of the Christmas promotion committee of the retail group of the Warren Chamber of Commerce, reports that the soliciting of funds to provide the lights is being completed, and sufficient money is in sight to finance the plan.

Between 20 and 25 electrical workers and linemen affiliated with unions in Warren, have donated their time and services to the committee, and it is anticipated that the work will be finished some time early in the week of November 24.

The lights will be turned on with appropriate ceremonies at four o'clock on the afternoon of Friday, November 24th, the day after Thanksgiving.

Marines Observe Anniversary by Rolling Within Three Miles of Changjin Dam

ADVANCES UNOPPOSED

Seoul, Nov. 10—(AP)—The Allies forged a steel band across North Korea's narrow waist today with the linkup of U. S. Tenth Corps forces from the east and Eighth Army elements from the west. AP Correspondent William Jordan reported the linkup was made southeast of Tokchon, in north-central Korea. It came as Chinese Communists just north of the Manchurian border continued their ominous buildup of troops—now reported at some 300,000.

By The Associated Press

Seoul, Nov. 10—Allied warplanes hit ten Russian-built tanks today in whacking relentlessly at Chinese Communist forces withdrawing into far North Korea's wooded mountains.

Bombers and jet fighters carrying half-ton bombs smashed at Red supply lines near and south of the Yalu river boundary of Communist Manchuria.

American and Red jet fighters engaged in two flashing chases near the major Red crossing point—the northwest border town of Sinuiju. No losses on either side were reported.

U. S. jets destroyed eight enemy tanks and damaged two in Red territory south and southeast of Sinuiju. Twenty-five trucks and other vehicles were destroyed and seven trucks damaged.

The puzzling lull in the ground action continued into its fifth day. There was only patrol action and minor skirmishing.

Inland from the east coast, the U. S. Marines observed the 175th anniversary of the Corps by rolling onto a plateau to within three miles of the vital Changjin power dam. It was a gain of six miles.

There was no opposition. Abandoned packs indicated the haste of the Chinese withdrawal.

A U. S. First Corps spokesman said the day's greatest advance—likewise unopposed—was registered by the South Korean Capital division in the far northeast—an 11-mile thrust north of Kijochu.

That's about 75 miles south of the Manchurian border. Elsewhere across the peninsula, the Allied line was 45 to 50 miles south of the touchy boundary. Before the

Y.M.C.A. Campaign Is Launched With Kick-Off Dinner

The opening "kickoff" dinner-meeting for the Y.M.C.A. membership campaign held at the association building last evening set the drive going with a bang. A good percentage of the 80 some workers were present at the gathering to receive instructions and materials necessary in their work.

A dinner was served at six o'clock followed by a meeting led by the campaign chairman, W. Howard Alexander, who welcomed those present and stressed the importance of the drive and of securing new members. Mr. Alexander said that the price of a membership is the same now as it was several years ago and since that time prices have doubled and tripled. Meaning that a large number of new members must be secured in order to keep the "Y" running.

Harold Hampson was the speaker, giving a brief address on the values of a strong Y.M.C.A., its outreach throughout the world, and suggestions on why and how to make the campaign a success.

Team captains were then introduced by the Blue division leader, Charles Koebley, and the Gold division leader, Grover Lind. After the introductions, Dan Walton, general secretary, gave instructions to the workers and the materials were distributed.

Of the ten teams present, team No. 9 under captain Murray Cameron, won the prize for the best attendance and each member of the team received a box of candy. Four special prizes were also awarded, with Jim Torrance, Hilmar Roos, Chuck Koebley, and L. M. McConnell, the winners.

The first report meeting of the group will be held next Tuesday in the "Y" at 6:30 o'clock, at which time prizes will be presented to the high team. A "victory" dinner for the workers is scheduled for Thursday, allowing one week for campaigning.

The progress being made by the two divisions will be indicated on the large score board outside on the "Y" with blue and gold thermometers.

District Quarterly Conference Here On November 15th

The Rev. Wayne Furman, superintendent of the Jamestown District, Methodist church, has announced the fall sub-district quarterly conference to be held at Epworth Methodist Church, Warren, Wednesday, November 15.

The announced program will begin at 6:30 p. m. with a tureen dinner. The roll call of churches and filing of separate reports will be at seven o'clock. A panel discussion on "How to Stay Married and Like It", will be followed by various items of interest to the churches of this district. The Methodist film "Crossroads" will be shown at 8:15 p. m.

The Rev. Furman will preside during the entire session. He will present the plans for the evangelistic program for February in the Erie Conference.

The Rev. James Kelly will be host pastor and his church will provide the tables, coffee, cream and sugar for the tureen dinner. All officials attending will bring a tureen, dessert, sandwiches and table service. The Methodist Churches whose officials will attend are Epworth, Grace, and First Church, Warren, Mt. Jewett, East Kane, Kane, Sheffield, Charge, Clarendon, Charge, Youngsville Charge, Lander, Russell Charge, Kinzua and Sugar Grove Charges.

Boy Scout Troop At Youngsville Will Receive a Charter

Youngsville, Nov. 10.—Leaders of Boy Scout Troop 24 have planned a special program in the Methodist church at 7:30 p. m. Sunday November 19. Rut Stanford, Scout executive for Warren County Council, will be present to present the troop's charter and outline the year's program to leaders and committeemen.

Pupils of the fifth grade, taught by Mrs. Carl Linberg, have planned a visit to the Dyke Creamery, Railroad street, to learn how milk is pasteurized and homogenized and how butter is made.

About 30 members of Youngsville Order of Eastern Star attended the district meeting at Meadville Tuesday evening, all local officers being included in the group. The Youth Fellowship has planned a silver tea from 8 to 10

On the Front Lines Nov. 11, 1918

On the 32nd anniversary of the signing of the armistice which ended the fighting in World War I, it is interesting to recall just where most of the boys of our own Co. I, 112th Infantry, were and what they were doing on that momentous day. A member who served with distinction with the unit from the time it was mustered into federal service at the state armory July 15, 1917, and later in the battles of Chateau Thierry, Fismes and Esmette, Argonne Forest and the Meuse, wrote the following interesting account of his experiences on November 11, 1918. It was printed in the Evening Times, on the first anniversary, November 11, 1919:

On the Front Lines

Stragglers had been coming in from the rear for several days and all brought reports of an armistice, but as no two of them were anywhere alike, the story was given little credence, the men calling it the usual line of "bull". At the time the order came out to cease firing at 11 o'clock on the 11th, Co. I was in the trenches at Zammes, in the Thiacourt sector, about 14 kilometers from Metz and the big guns from that fortress were shelling the 112th positions.

The 112th had held front line positions along this sector for nearly a month and every night roads were filled with incoming troops, tractors hauling big guns, ammunition trucks and horses bringing in the 75s, so it did not look anything like a cessation of hostilities. Reports that the regiment was to be the apex of a wedge to be driven toward Metz had been circulated and from experience the boys were much more ready to believe this than they were to get out of the fighting. Although everyone knew that the big guns were in position and that there were a great many of them, it seemed to be the policy of the artillery to fire only one battery at a time on any day, probably to lead the Jerries to think that they were shifting the guns about.

About three o'clock in the morning of the 11th, a signal company near the grub wagon of I Company received word that the Armistice had been signed, but there was no excitement, but shortly after, it seemed that both the American and Fritzes had opened up with everything they had and they kept it up to the last minute, the 75s were barking and the long range rifles from 6 to 16 inches were booming, the shells screaming overhead continually. The big

p. m. Tuesday in the Methodist church dining room, a special program to begin at eight o'clock. The public is cordially invited.

howitzers were making more noise than the others as they seemed to be nearer. The Americans had great quantities of ammunition and were willing to spend it. One lieutenant of artillery seemed to express the feelings of the whole army when he said, "We had a hell of a time getting this stuff up here and I'm damned if I'll take any of it back, she is all going over to Jerry, unless the gun burns up on me."

The Germans must have known that there was something doing before the Americans for on the night of the 10th day they sent up all kinds of signal flares and other lights and as soon as the artillery stopped firing at 11 o'clock they started to come over the line, bringing bottles of schnapps, of which they seemed to have plenty. Few of the doughboys were able to get any of it as the officers got next to the game before it had got nicely started and sent the Jerries back to their own lines, but not before a considerable amount of "corn bill" and hardtack, which the Germans seemed to need, had changed hands. All of the European armies had a ration of booze, but if any American was ever able to get anything better than a C. C. pill or a dab of iodine from the U. S. commissary, he is entitled to a half-dozen medals of honor. If a man had the stomach ache, he got a C. C. If he had a leg shot off he got a C. C. and a dab of iodine. However, they did not seem to mind it as they had become accustomed to the game.

At Regimental headquarters, located at Pannes, four kilometers backing the firing line, the Regimental band found a few instruments and played both the American and French National anthems and then proceeded to a little church that in some way had escaped destruction and held thanksgiving services. There were a few cheers, but nobody seemed to care much whether the fighting stopped or not. The boys of the 28th had been primed up for the attack on Metz and it was hard for them to believe that they were to escape it. It was afterward found out that the dope on the advance had been correct, the division being the entering wedge for the drive and one who was there did not have to stretch his imagination much to know what would happen to the Pennsylvania troops when they stormed the strongest fortress in the world.

Croat troops, who came to France as "Mercenaries" in 1900, brought the first bright colored fancy neckties with them.

HAROLD W. GEIGER
Soil Conservation Service

Hello folks. Another nice fall week is past and conservation farmers are still busy installing soil conservation measures on their farms in Warren County.

Complete conservation farm plans for the three farms of Frank F. Schramling, Columbus farmer, were completed this week. Frank has a good bit of rough pasture which he has planned to level and improve.

Work on the half mile long diversion terrace on Johnny Owen's farm, or Yankeebrush, is still under way. Jim Locey, Sugar Grove farmer, is building the diversion with his terracer. Some rain has held up completion of the diversion before this.

The conservation survey for Charles Henry's farm, near Columbus, was completed this week. Information mapped included types of soil, slopes, drainage, and erosion. Charles will use this data to make his farm conservation plan later this fall.

Also conservation surveyed this week were the farms of Norm Haner and Mike Zurkan, Sugar Grove township farmers. Their plans will be made later this fall.

Two diversions were laid out on Arnold Hagberg's farm along Suede Hollow near Sugar Grove. Excess surface water is Arnold's problem and he hopes to overcome this with the building of these diversions.

Small game season has been in full swing for over a week—and most of the numrds are having good luck. Many hunters are not taking the legal bag limits, but are voluntarily taking less. This is a good conservation measure in the use of our "wildlife crop" now being harvested. It will mean adequate breeding stock left for next season and, undoubtedly, more game for everyone.

Those people who oppose the so-called "slaughter" of our game, must realize that sportsmen, in general, are helping nature remove its excess as a crop, just as a farmer harvests a crop or as a logger harvests a timber crop. Small game in excess of its food supply, if not harvested, will only perish through starvation, disease, etc.

Speaking of game food supply and cover—this has been a very good year with wild fruit and nut trees and shrubs well loaded with all types of game food. I have had some of the best beechnuts I ever tasted during the past month. Wild apples and cherries produced tremendous crops. Perhaps, according to the oldsters, it's a sign of a rough winter—who can tell?

The yucca, New Mexico's state flower, is said to obtain much of its sustenance from the air.

ABC ON NEW CONGRESS

If you are wondering what Tuesday's election means in congress, here's a brief fill-in, as furnished by one of our Washington feature writers:

The congress due back here this month is the 81st—elected in 1948—and not the 82nd, which you voted for Tuesday.

The two-year term of the 81st, which began at noon, Jan. 3, 1949, ends just before noon, Jan. 3, 1951.

And at noon next Jan. 3 the 82nd congress begins its two-year term.

In the 81st the Democrats had a majority over the Republicans. They'll keep it in the 82nd, but slimmer, as a result of this week's elections.

This majority gives the Democrats a position of power. But because it's slim, they won't be able to ram through any legislation they please.

For example—because they're in a majority, the Democrats will have a majority on all committees. And all committee chairmen will be Democrats.

These committees, of course, are of the utmost importance since it's in them that new laws get their start. For example:

If the 82nd congress raises income taxes, committees will first examine the whole problem.

And if the full congress votes an increase, the size and details will be pretty much what the committees decide they should be.

But for President Truman and his followers there's a catch in all this: For instance, take the senate in the 82nd congress.

There the Democrats will outnumber the Republicans only 49 to 47. Any time the Republicans show up in full strength and the Democrats are minus three votes, the Republicans' vote will be decisive.

But more than that: It's seldom that Democrats and Republicans line up solidly and vote solidly as a party.

And the narrower the margin between Democrats and Republicans at the start of a vote, the worse the chance for Mr. Truman's ideas to get through since a few switchers by the Democrats will help the Republicans.

You can see what that means in something like Mr. Truman's proposal for compulsory health insurance.

In the 81st congress, where the Democrats' majority was larger, this health program got exactly no where because too many Democrats joined with too many Republicans in opposing it. Now it will have even less chance.

American Education Week

"Get up son, and get ready for school."

I have heard those words many times since my first day of school but I still remember that first morning and my first grade in the Warren Schools. I also remember how proud I was when my first grade teacher said we could take our reading books home and how my entire family sat around and patiently listened to me read a story. That really was a red letter day for me.

The rest of grade school was not very exciting. Sometimes the teachers and I couldn't agree on how the class room should be run. They didn't seem to understand and appreciate the skill it took to hit a target with a bit of tightly folded paper connected to a rubber band—or why a bothersome fly must be boisterously swatted. I really don't think they missed me at all when I went to Beaty Junior High School.

My three years at Beaty were mighty busy ones. It took quite a while to get acquainted with all the teachers and the gang that came in on the buses.

At Beaty I really met up with serious difficulties. I'll never forget the Latin vocabularies and trying to draw pictures that never looked like what I wanted them to. Shop was sure fun though—electrical, mechanical and woodwork. It comes in mighty handy too—to fix up my old Ford as well as a lot of things at home.

Then came High School! And what a beat-up old building I thought it was. Folks were so friendly that before long I felt right at home, but I made a few discoveries. One was that I didn't know even half as much as I thought I did. Another was that education is not all tucked between the covers of books. A fellow has to learn to get along with folks. Sort of a give and take deal.

After all my years in school it has finally soaked in that a person needs an education and we are really lucky to be living in America where education is free for all.

Who Won?

Here And There

Tomorrow will be the 32nd anniversary of the signing of the armistice, November 11, 1918, which suspended World War I hostilities between the Allies and Germany. It was concluded by Marshall Foch and Admiral Wemyss with civil and military representatives of Germany; but before any meeting took place, the Allied representatives had received full instructions from the Versailles Supreme War Council, which contained representatives of the Allied governments concerned, while during the negotiations, the German representatives were permitted to communicate with their own government. Though the armistice merely suspended hostilities without putting an end to the war, in practice a general armistice has always led to the conclusion of a treaty of peace. The armistice of November 1918 was renewed three times before peace was signed and at each renewal some modifications were made. The Allied and Associated powers had reserved to themselves the right to denounce the armistice at three days' notice. In the terms the Germans were directed to evacuate the invaded territories together with Alsace-Lorraine and Luxembourg, within fourteen days, and to retire to a specified point west of the Rhine within a further sixteen days. Between the forces a neutral zone six miles wide, was established, and was not to be entered by the armed forces on either side. The chief conditions imposed on Germany, in addition to those indicated above, were the surrender of all submarines, six battleship cruisers, ten battleships, eight light cruisers, and fifty destroyers of the most modern type; 2,500 heavy guns, 2,500 field guns, 30,000 machine guns, 3,000 trench mortars, 2,000 airplanes, 5,000 railway locomotives, 150,000 railway wagons and 5,000 motor lorries. All prisoners of war in German hands were to be repatriated without reciprocity; while the cost maintenance of Allied troops occupying the Rhine lands and Alsace-Lorraine was to be charged to Germany.

There are many who remember the wild celebrating in Warren as in the rest of the nation on the occasion of the signing of the armistice, but reference to the file of November 11, 1919, indicates that the first anniversary of the important date, excited but mild interest here. An article from the November 12, 1919, Evening Times, explains that in spite of elaborate plans made for a celebration and parade, few people showed any interest. The article says "There was a large crowd on the streets, but nobody seemed to want to get into the line of march or do anything other than criticize the parade. There was plenty of noise and red fire, but that was as far as it went. There were about 900 service men in the war from Warren, but only about 25 of them were in evidence last evening. There were a few from Company M, Reserve Militia, Boy Scouts, the Salvation Army and the A. F. of M. band furnished the music. Decorated floats were furnished by the Masterson Draying Co., Smith Metzger-Wright, and Smith-Horton, but taken as a whole the celebration was a decided failure. Warren has always been known as a wide-awake town, but so far as the first anniversary of Armistice Day was concerned there was decidedly nothing doing. After the parade a dance was held in the State Armory which was well attended."

Fast European Air Tour Offers Refresher Course for Newsmen

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

IT is now possible to "see Europe" in two weeks. Trans-World Airlines carried a party of 50 U. S. newsmen on such a trip, to inaugurate its new service to London and Frankfurt. In 10,000 miles of flying over a period of 17 days they hit 10 major cities in six countries, not counting fuel stops at Shannon, Ireland, and Gander, Newfoundland. The schedule was tight and the pace terrific. But there was time for interviewing, sightseeing and some fun in London, Frankfurt, Heidelberg, Berlin, Zurich, Bern, Geneva, Athens, Rome and Paris.

This is the fastest way to get a quick refresher course on postwar Europe and how it's getting along. Fuller dispatches from various of the cities mentioned above have been printed previously in this space. From the notebook, here are other highlights:

ATHENS—Abandoned silver mines that helped finance the Trojan wars of ancient Greece may play an important part in solving the difficulties of modern Greece. With Marshall Plan aid, the old Laurium mines are being reopened. From them the ancient Greeks got the silver that paid for building the thousand ships that Helen's beauty launched. But the ancient Greeks could work only the shallow deposits, and did not exhaust the veins of ore. Mediterranean Mining Co., Ltd., a Canadian-American company, has been given a contract to start working the deeper deposits with modern machinery.

GENEVA—Fred Bates, American banker, department store owner and newspaper publisher in this old League of Nations capital, says it isn't just American foreign policy that Europeans worry about, but American domestic policies. U. S. decision to fight in Korea gave Europe a big lift. But uncontrolled increase in prices of cotton, wheat, meat, other foodstuffs, metals and raw materials which Europe imports has European businessmen genuinely alarmed.

Europe still has an inflationary hangover from the war, with terribly depreciated currencies everywhere except in Switzerland. Prices in Switzerland are now back up to 1948 peaks, after a 10 per cent drop in 1949. More inflation in U. S. would only make the European price situation worse. While U. S. fears western Europe may go Communist, European bankers and businessmen fear U. S. may be going socialist. Latter prospect seems to frighten them more than the former.

PARIS—French government policy of carrying on the war against the Communists in Viet Nam (Indo-China) is not supported by all officials. There is considerable feeling that Viet Nam warfare is futile—that France can't win, so why not pull out? By so doing, France would be able to build up its home defenses against the Russians. The most embarrassing question this raises for the United States is: If France pulled out of Viet Nam, as Britain did in Greece, would U. S. forces have to assume the full burden of fighting communism there, too?

BERLIN—U. S. information services in this beleaguered German ex-capital have a new gimmick which they are offering to counteract Russian propaganda. It is three minutes of the latest news, delivered over the telephone, any time of the day or night.

All that anyone living in the Berlin area has to do to get this service is dial a certain number. It works just as well on a call from the Russian zone as it does from the American, British or French zones. The hook-up which handles this telephone news service is simple. All in-coming calls are switched to a circuit connected with a transcription machine which plays from a recording tape. The tape recording is changed frequently throughout the day, as new bulletins come in. It operates a good bit like the U. S. telephone companies' weather reporting services.

Congressman T. C. Cochran and Senator David A. Reed, as a result of telegrams sent each by Republican County Chairman H. H. Bassett, are to co-operate in an endeavor to have plans speeded up for the construction of the Warren post office so that work may be started during the winter to provide employment for many out of work in the community at the present time.

Until word is received from Washington, it will not be known in Warren who is to be awarded the contract for removing snow from the walk around the site of the new post office building at the corner of Third avenue and Liberty street.

Chief among the activities to be discussed at the meeting of the American Legion Post this evening will be the membership campaign under the direction of Commander Charles Stuble.

A number of Warren ladies, Mrs. S. E. Walker, Mrs. F. C. Eaton, Mrs. Orion Siggins, Mrs. E. S. Briggs and Mrs. Sue E. Tips On Tuning

The Warren Dragons have completed their football schedule for the season but WNAE and WNAE-FM will carry the football games over the weekend. On Saturday afternoon at 2:25, WNAE-FM will be carrying the Mutual broadcast of the game between Wisconsin U. and Ohio State. Ohio State is one of the top teams of the country and Al Helfer and Art Gleason should have a top-notch game to bring you. Sunday afternoon finds the Pittsburgh Steelers up against the Baltimore Colts. This game will be broadcast over WNAE at 1:45, immediately following Warm-Up Time. Joe Tucker and Bob Prince will be on hand to take over the descriptive chores for this game.

Saturday is Armistice Day and two special broadcasts are planned over WNAE. At 11:00 a. m. the Armistice Day Services in Warren will be broadcast and at 1:30, the Warren Player's Club Radio Workshop group will present a special Armistice Day program in dramatic form. To make room for the special broadcast on Saturday morning, the Italian Hour will start at 10:45 and resume after the special broadcast which will last approximately 15 minutes.

The Swedish Hour, conducted by Rolf Pedersen, is proving to be quite popular. This all Swedish program is heard over WNAE at 12:00 noon on Sunday and repeated over WNAE-FM at 7:00 p. m. on Sunday.

The Ford Winner Trio is back on the air again over WNAE-FM after a week's absence due to some program changes. The Trio is now heard between 9:00 and 9:30 p. m. on Sunday evening.

As part of the new winter schedule, a new show called "It's The Band" is being aired at 12:45 Monday through Friday. Each day another band is featured on the program. The alphabetical listing of the bands is being used in the schedule and during the month of November, you'll hear the ABC's of bands.

The dramatic narrative, "Unknown Soldier", will be represented by popular demand for the Friday broadcast of Mutual's "The Air Force Hour". The narrative, a stirring outline of the reasons why this particular soldier was chosen to represent those who died for their country but who could not be memorialized in their true names, was originally written by Mark D. Miranda, director of the series. It is printed, in its entirety, in the current edition of the Veterans of Foreign Wars' magazine, "Foreign Service". Just noticed on last Friday's show, that Cass Feelski, the announcer on the show, has finally gotten a promotion. Seems like it has been years that Cass has been saying "Your announcer has been Lt. Cass Feelski". Last Friday the man said Captain Cass Feelski.

Here's a last minute item of special interest to sports fans. Mutual has just announced that Gillette has selected MBS to air the 51st Army-Navy Football game to be played on December 2nd. There'll be more details on this game in the weeks to come.

Many Activities For Boy Scout Troop

Fred Cross qualified for his Second Class Rank, and a merit badge in cooking was awarded Robert Fitzgerald at a recent Board of Review for Boy Scout Troop 6, sponsored by the Optimist Club. Serving on the Review Board were Troop Committeemen Harry Cooper, George Nelson and Al Lucia. Scout Fitzgerald completed the requirements for his merit badge by preparing a full course meal—pork chops, home fries, vegetable soup, carrots, chocolate pudding, cocoa and rolls—following a cross-country hike by the troop from the Beech street hill to Camp Jeffers on Jackson Run. The hike was under supervision of Scoutmaster Frank Fago and Committeeman Cooper. Following the Board of Review, an inspection for Troop 6 members was conducted by Scoutmaster Robert Shine, Committeemen Donald Zaprowski and Philip Reynolds and three Scouts from Troop 11, with Second Class Scout Thomas Musante attaining a perfect score for his uniform.

NEWS OF THE WORLD AS SEEN IN PICTURES

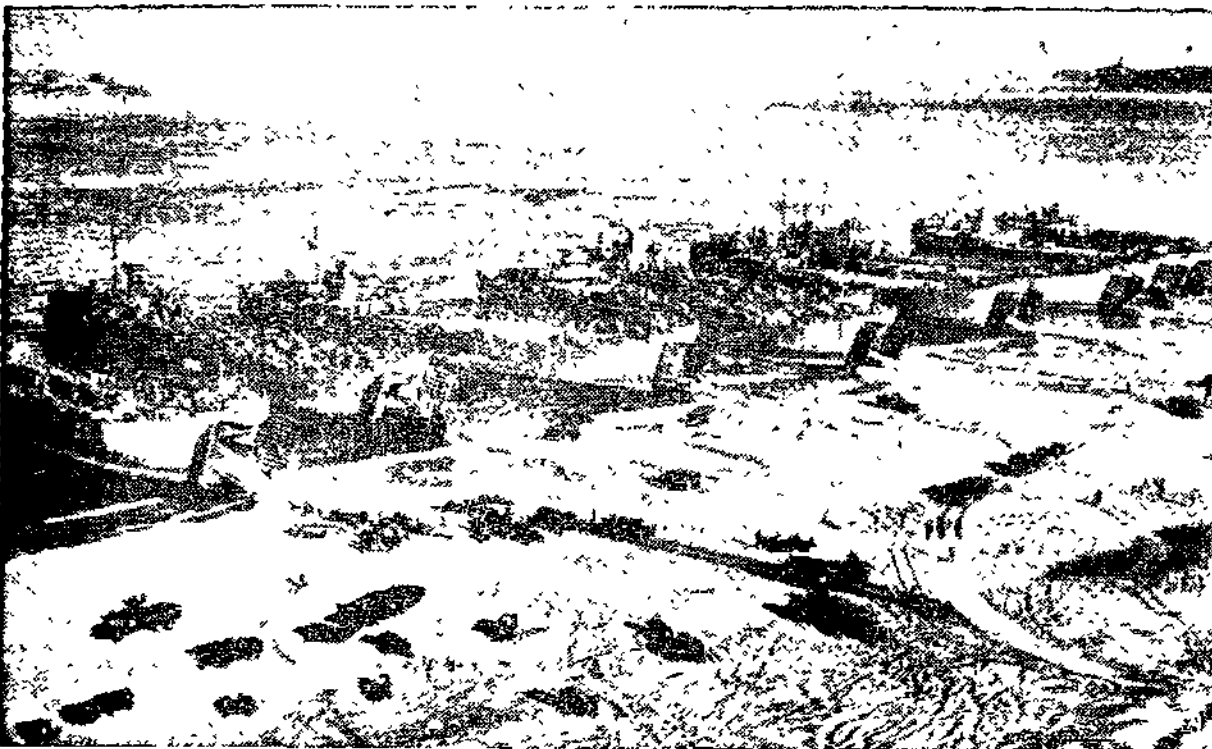

CARRIED AWAY BY VICTORY—Hoisted to the shoulders of jubilant admirers as he leaves a newspaper office in Pekin, Ill., former Republican Congressman Everett Dirksen beams broadly over his victory in the Illinois senatorial race. Dirksen, in what many Democrats regard as an upset, defeated Senate Democratic leader Scott W. Lucas.

BIKES FOR ALL SIZES—The new 1951 model bicycles, on the market for the Christmas trade, are as bright, shiny and up-to-date as the new automobiles. An important item in ordering a bike from Santa is to be sure the size is right. The standard sizes, illustrated here, run from a 16-inch junior for youngsters 4 to 6 years old—this model has two small detachable balance wheels, (shown in inset) for use until the toddler learns to balance himself on two—a 20-inch for 6 to 8-year-olds, up to the 24-inch "for youngsters 10 to 100." Bicycles are sized according to the diameter of the wheels.

GOP STRONG IN GUBERNATORIAL RACES—Newschart above shows where Republicans wrested governorships from Democrats in six states although Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan refuses to concede and a recount may be called. Arizona is left on the Democratic side although final returns may give it to the Republicans. There were 32 gubernatorial races at stake; latest returns showed 10 Democratic victories and 21 Republican wins. In the "Solid South" the Democrats held their governorships, but two anti-administration southerners, James F. Byrnes in South Carolina and Gov. Herman Talmadge in Georgia won without opposition.

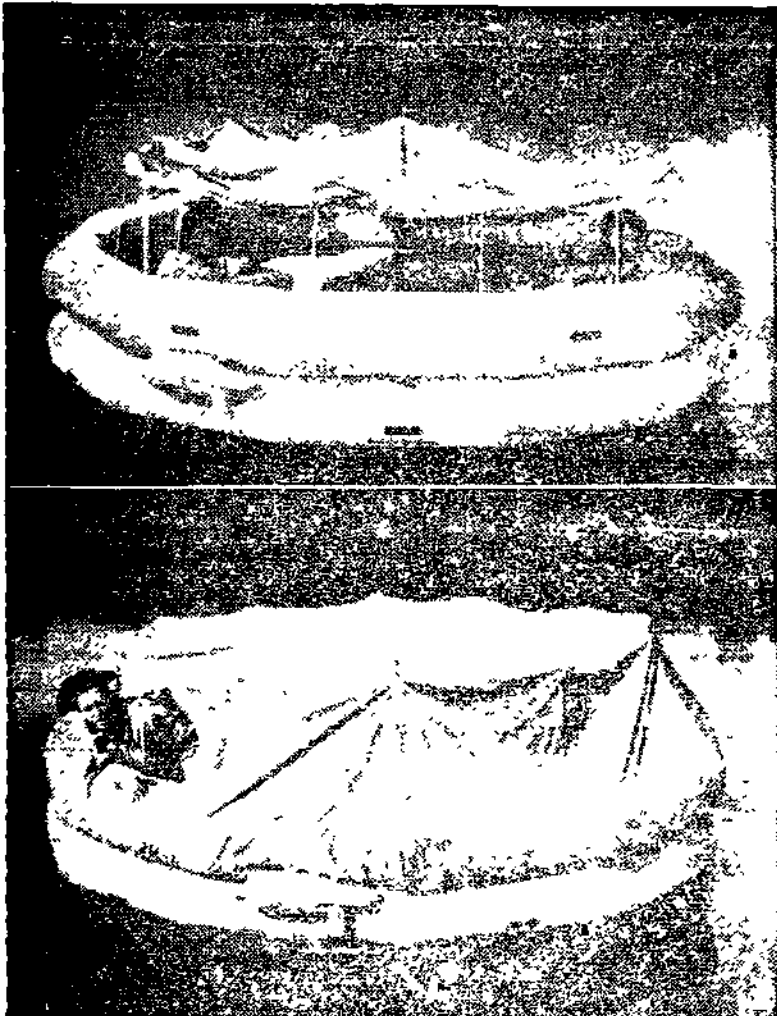

SHIP STUDDIED SHORELINE—While Communist guerrillas were boldly attacking Allied rear positions in the Wonsan area on Korea's east coast, far behind the fighting front, a steady stream of equipment and men poured onto the beach in Wonsan harbor from American LST's. In the picture above, ten ships are being unloaded at one time.

THIRD TERM GOVERNOR—Gov. Frank J. Lausche is congratulated by his wife, Jane, after defeating Republican Don H. Ebricht, state treasurer of Ohio, who had previously never, lost in a state election. Lausche, 55, became the sixth person in Ohio's history to win the gubernatorial race three times.

POLITICO IN DEFEAT?—With the election still fresh in mind, you might get the impression, in viewing this statue by Wilhelm Lembrueck, that here is a losing candidate just sensing the trend as election returns pour in. Actually the piece, titled "Der Gestuerzte" ("The Fallen"), is one of an exhibition of works of European sculptors on display in Munich, Germany.

"SEA-GOING PX"—This unusual rescue raft, unveiled by the Air Force at Wright-Patterson Base, Dayton, O., is designed to keep 20 men alive in comfort after forced landing at sea. At top, the nylon raft—which comes equipped with food and all accessories needed for survival—is open for fair weather. Below, the "hatches" are battened down to show its snugness during rough weather at sea.

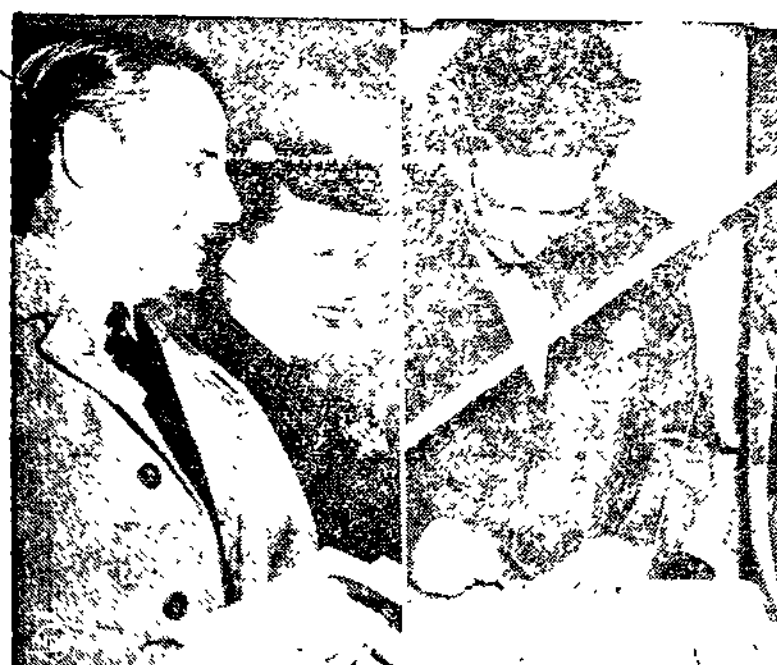

ARMS AND THE MAN—Acting Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri raises his arms above his head to give a victory handshake at his election headquarters after he was conceded the Mayoralty of New York. Impellitteri, running on the Experienced ticket, became the first man in New York history to win the Mayoralty without the backing of the Democratic or Republican Parties.

RED DIRT—Sneaking up in the night, Communist sympathizers daubed Communist symbols and anti-American slogans on the ROTC headquarters at Temple University, Philadelphia. Inspecting the vandalism are Lt.-Col. Fay K. Green, left, Lt.-Col. Lynn Spillman and students. The FBI has been asked to investigate.

SCRATCH ONE RED JET—American flyers bagged a deadly Russian-built MIG-15 jet plane, damaged two others and shot down two YAK-9's during one of five Red hit-run attacks south of the Manchurian border, near Sinuiju. British units and two U. S. 24th Division Regiments pushed to within five miles of Pakchon (1) from their Chongchon River bridgehead while, to the east, U. S. 2nd Division troops beat off a Red Chinese attack 12 miles southeast of Tokchon (2). The 7th Regiment of the U. S. 1st Marine Division slugged forward to a point five miles north of Sudong on main road leading to Chosin Reservoir (3). Guerrilla attacks were repulsed by U. S. Marines and Puerto Rican troops at Wonsan (4). No change was reported in the positions of the U. S. 7th Infantry Division north of Pungsan and the ROK Capital Division at Myongchon in the northeast. Kanggye (blast symbol) was reported 65 per cent destroyed by fire bombs.

POSTING SIX—Halfback Paul Barry of the professional Rams fights his way through center from the one-yard-line to score even though pinned to a Los Angeles Coliseum goal post by the San Francisco 49ers' Sam Cathcart, 83, left, aided by Frankie Albert.

Unemployment Drops to Two-Year Low In October Says Census Bureau Report

Washington—(AP)—Unemployment dropped to a two-year low of 1,940,000 in October. This was a fall of 401,000 from September. Reporting the drop Friday, the Census Bureau attributed it in part to the bite that draft calls took from the working force and to good weather which brought an expansion in farm employment. The Bureau said the number of people holding jobs rose to 51,764,000, highest ever for an October. There was no sign that the big defense production program had brought any important increase in jobs or additional strain on manpower reserves as yet.

In fact, non-farm employment fell 142,000 to a 53,273,000 total in October. Farm employment jumped 880,000 to an 8,491,000 level. The drop in unemployment would have been hailed as unadulterated good news in "normal" times. But because of the defense program the official comment did not take that slant.

Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, who related the figures, pointed out that the shrinking pool of unemployment "is rapidly ruling out the jobless group as an important source of additional workers for defense industries."

He added in a statement: "We should note also that, for the first time since the end of World War II, the armed forces are claiming a sizeable number of young workers from the civilian manpower pool."

The number of unemployed would have dropped still lower had not 137,000 persons—many of

Requirements For the Best Video Film Needs Are Outlined

Syracuse, N. Y.—A comprehensive analysis of television receiver specifications, including several not previously considered by TV engineers, was the subject of a paper delivered to the radio fall meeting here today by W. B. Whalley of the physics laboratory of Sylvania Electric Products Inc., Bayside, N. Y. The meeting was sponsored jointly by the Radio Television Manufacturers Association and the Institute of Radio Engineers.

Whalley said that the studies which he reported were made to provide specifications which would make better use of the high quality picture tubes which are presently available.

One of the TV receiver operating characteristics which he used as an example he called "stability of picture area." "While the other performance characteristics of a TV set may be excellent" he explained, "the video image may change appreciably in size according to variations in line voltage caused by refrigerators and oil burners going on and off. In other circuit designs the picture may change in area according to picture brightness which may change from scene to scene. Instability of picture area is, of course, undesirable because it means that the eye of observer is distracted from the action of the scene."

The seven most important considerations of TV set performance for which circuit and component specifications were reviewed included: good picture resolution; steady synchronization; good image contrast and gamma; rigorous control of black or background level; low noise level and interference; reasonable picture brightness and picture area stability.

The unemployed, as the Census Bureau uses the term, are people without jobs and looking for work. So when a housewife applies to an employment agency for a job she is listed as unemployed if she does not find one.

The rise in employment from September to October was 538,000. The decrease in unemployment is not the same because of additional persons joining the number looking for work.

Grange at Corydon Will Hold a Harvest Supper Mon. Night

Corydon, Nov. 9—Installation of officers and the annual harvest supper will be features of the regular session of Corydon Grange next Monday evening.

This week's meeting of the Foreign Missionary workers of the Church of the Nazarene was held with Mrs. Frank Coy, Bradford road, with a good turnout. Following a tureen dinner, sewing for the hostess occupied the time.

Members of the Friday club were entertained at the home of Mrs. Clyde LaDow. Five hundred was played and awards made for scores. Candy served as a refreshment.

Mrs. Augusta Erickson, local resident, is listed as a traverse juror for the county court term opening November 20.

Mrs. Goldie Whyte and twin sons have returned from a visit in Cleveland, O.

Mrs. Roy Williams, Mrs. Carl Swanson and Mrs. Herbert Layton were among this week's Bradford visitors.

Mrs. Leslie Pierce and Mrs. William Dunden and children, Salamanca, were visitors of Mrs. Marian Caldwell and daughters.

Last week I got a good look at forestry conditions in a portion of our neighboring mountain state of West Virginia.

I was impressed with the steepness of the topography down there for wood's operations as compared to the nearly ideal logging conditions here on the Allegheny plateau.

Fires and destructive logging have taken a heavy toll, and grazing of cattle has had an adverse effect upon many portions of the forested watersheds.

The most interesting part of the trip, though, was a visit to Cheat Mountain on a logging railroad which climbed about 2700 feet in 7 miles of track. Here at an elevation of over 4,000 feet, we watched almost pure stands of red spruce being clear cut in tree lengths, and then skidded some 3,000 feet by means of Lidgerwood overhead skidders.

A half dozen or more tree length logs are skidded at one time at great speeds over an overhead cable and piled up onto a mountain of logs like so many "jack straws" at the side of the railroad. Later these great piles of logs are disentangled and loaded onto cars by a loader mounted on a flat car. The choker man proved to be sure footed as a mountain goat and had an uncanny ability to set the choker at exactly the right point on the tree length logs so that they would balance perfectly when picked up by the loader.

We walked through portions of the uncut timber, and the ground was covered with damp moss from which water could be rung out. It was cool and fragrant under these fine spruce, straight and tall as ship's masts.

Then we stepped out into the sunlight where the timber had been clear-cut except for a few scattered spruce too small for present day sawlogs. Here the ground was dry beneath the logging debris. Much of the soft forest carpet was destroyed. It was now a perfect fire trap. Even though fire is kept out successfully oxidation is taking place which renders the area unfit for the successful seeding in of spruce.

I asked one of the company men how many more years they would be able to operate in this spruce timber and he estimated four to five more years. A little later I was given the figure of eight years by another company man. Whether four years or eight years, the spruce type is doomed, and the logging railroad as well as the colorful Lidgerwood skidders will pass into history on Cheat mountain.

While I was glad to be there in time to witness what well may be one of the last logging railroad operations in the East, I regret seeing such a beautiful tree as the red spruce go out with it to be replaced by fire cherry and inferior grade hardwoods.

On the Monongahela National Forest nearby, a representative piece of old growth red spruce is being reserved for posterity, but it is but a small sample of a timber type that once covered large areas in the high mountain country of West Virginia.

20,000,000 bottles of HADACOL have been made and sold thus far in 1950. This is a record for any product but it is even more unusual when you consider that HADACOL is advertised in only 22 states.

Advertising has sold the first bottle of HADACOL to many folks; HADACOL is a very meritorious product and the results it has obtained have made possible the sale of these 20,000,000 bottles in 10 months.

Faith has been an important factor in the development of HADACOL—faith made possible its creation and the faith the American people have placed in my product has been responsible for its growth. I pledge to the American people that the faith they have placed in HADACOL will never be violated.

Truthfully,

Rev. Baldwin Is Speaker for DAR Meeting Thursday

The program for the November meeting of General Joseph Warren Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, featured the Rev. C. W. Baldwin, who read and interpreted many modern English and American poems in a very interesting and realistic manner.

Guest soloist was Mrs. Everett Borg, accompanied at the piano by Miss Adelaide Swanson. Mrs. Borg delighted the group by singing a medley of favorite song hits from musical shows and "I Wonder As I Wander" by Niles.

The meeting was held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the YWCA activities building, opened by the regent, Mrs. W. G. Cable, with reading of the society's objectives. Scripture was read and prayer offered by Mrs. T. H. Russell, chaplain, and members joined in pledging allegiance to the flag and repeating "The American Creed."

Mrs. C. L. Thompson, program chairman, presented Rev. Baldwin, who is pastor of Grace Methodist church.

Routine reports were presented during the business session and Mrs. Cable gave a brief summary of sessions of the state conference she attended recently in Reading.

Miss Laura DeForest and Mrs. Cable presided at the attractive tea table, which had been arranged with yellow chrysanthemums and matching tapers. The hostess chairman was Mrs. W. E. Yeager, assisted by Mrs. Beecher Rutledge, Mrs. Cable, Miss Clara Dunham, Mrs. E. Q. McCune, Miss Harriet Eaton, Miss Minnie Shawkey, Mrs. F. E. Hertzler, Miss Kate Haupt and Mrs. William Shortt.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETING

Mrs. H. Burke Forbes, chairman of the Literature Department, announces the program for the Woman's Club for Monday, when Pete Mesner will speak on "The Brownings — Mr and Mrs Poetry".

Pete, well known in Warren for his outstanding program "Your Neighbor", formerly presented over WNAE every morning, is returning from his new post on WHHH at Warren, O., to present this interesting program to the Woman's Club. Pete is a graduate of John Carroll University at Cleveland, and is an army veteran with a Purple Heart earned in Italy. While in town, he was very active in Players' club.

HOMEMAKERS MEETING

The North Warren Homemakers will hold their monthly meeting Monday evening at the community house, when the entertainment will feature Dorothy Lincoln's showing of colored pictures of her trip to the Thousand Islands and Canada, also autumn pictures of Cook Forest and nearby points of interest. All women of North Warren and vicinity are cordially invited.

NOTICE

Retail stores in observance of Armistice Day will be closed tomorrow from 10:45 to 11:30.

NEW BAZAAR IDEA

The Woman's Club bazaar committee, headed by Mrs. W. Floyd Clinger, announces a new feature of this year's display: "Built-in Baby Sitters". Actually this will be, in practice, a parking space for infants and small run-arounds so that parents may be free to wander about the club's busy auditorium and enjoy meeting with friends while window-shopping and making purchases of the lovely articles to be displayed.

The nursery will be held in a room adjacent to the hub-bub of the bazaar, so that children may remain calm and contented, and their care will be supervised by a graduate nurse. This particular feature of the bazaar was instituted, as were many of the excellent ideas for booths, or articles themselves, by interested club members. The baby-sitting service will be free, as is admission to the bazaar, for all attending.

Registered Nurses Plan Local Unit of State Organization

All registered nurses in Warren county, active or inactive, are urged to participate in the meeting to be held in the Nurses' Home of the Warren State Hospital at 8 o'clock, Monday evening, for the purpose of organizing for a period covering one year on a test basis a county unit of the Pennsylvania State Nurses' Association, which is a sub-division of the American Nurses Association. During this time, it is to be determined if there is an advantage in being organized within an area smaller than District No. 7, which is comprised of five counties—Warren, Erie, Mercer, Crawford and Venango. The four other counties in District No. 7 are likewise organizing for the same purpose.

Most important on the agenda for Monday evening will be review and possible adoption of by-laws followed by election of officers to serve throughout the ensuing year.

At the close of the program the group will be guests of the Hospital for a brief social period when light refreshments will be served.

It is again emphasized, that membership in the Pennsylvania State Nurses' Association is not a prerequisite to voting privileges in this meeting.

ANNUAL ARMISTICE DAY DINNER AT VFW

The annual Armistice Day tureen dinner for members of the Dinsmore-Schwartz V. F. W. Post 631 of Warren will be held by the Ladies Auxiliary in the post rooms tomorrow night, starting at 6 o'clock. All members and their wives are invited.

Speaker for the dinner will be Chester Zerbe, of Erie, formerly of Warren, who is a past deputy commander of the Pennsylvania V. F. W. organization.

Dancing and a floor show in the social rooms will follow the dinner program.

Many Homemakers Profit By Annual Christmas Idea Exchange at Lander

Lander, Nov. 10—Approximately 275 homemakers of Warren county gathered here Thursday for the annual home economics club Christmas exchange meeting arranged by Geraldine Johnston, extension representative and her assistant, Mary Ayers.

The meeting was held in the Methodist church, with the luncheon served in the community house gym, and exhibits arranged in the library of the community center.

Opening with a Christmas carol and devotion led by Mrs. Grant Mottern, Mrs. Grace Briggs, Garland, gave a demonstration of making Christmas cookies; Mrs. Murphy, Dunkirk, demonstrated making plastic purses, and Mr. Sexton, representative of a Dunkirk firm, exhibited plastics and explained their uses. After a Christmas reading by Mrs. Helen Waddell, Enterprise, the group adjourned for lunch.

E. C. Stillings, principal of Youngville High School, was heard after lunch in a very fine talk on world conditions and The United Nations.

Exhibits included lamps, ceramics, Christmas cookies, decorations, wild flowers in winter bouquets, crocheting, tatting, plastics, aprons, pillows and many other items.

Following the singing of more carols, ways of using Christmas greens were shown by Mrs. Robert Thomas, Tidoute; Mrs. Axel Carlstrom, Akeley, and John Stewart, of Yule Tree Farm. Mrs. Vance Weld, Pleasant, demonstrated chocolate dipping; Mrs. Richard Bloss, Sheffield, showed how to make taffeta pillows; Mrs. Oliver Watt and Mrs. Alan Koebler, showed Christmas wrappings and packages.

Mrs. Gladys Christensen, Cherry Grove, served as commentator; Mrs. Richard Bloss, Sheffield, the song leader, and Mrs. Karl Hager, Clarendon, was pianist.

Handling arrangements for the exchange were these different groups: Russell, the registrations; Chandeliers Valley, hospitality; Swede Hollow, exhibits; Starbrick, the programs; Lander, the table decorations, done in holiday style.

Home economics units from all points in the county were represented in the gathering.

Eugene Shine, who has been visiting his family and friends in town, left this morning for Hollywood, Fla., where he is employed at the Hollywood Beach Hotel. En route, he planned to stop at Ft. Belvoir, Va., to see his brother, John.

RESERVATIONS FOR SENIOR CLASS PLAY
Ticket reservations for Thursday's performance of the Warren High School Senior play, "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," will be made in the high school auditorium Monday at three o'clock. Reservations for the Friday performance may be made Tuesday at the same hour. Tickets may be purchased from any of the seniors on the sales force, or they may be procured and reserved by calling Miss Lois Hulings in the principal's office, telephone 2461. If tickets are secured by telephone, they may be picked up at the high school just before the performance.

FARINGTON-SUGAR GROVE GRADE PTA

Lander, Nov. 10—Farmington-Sugar Grove Grade School PTA will hold its regular meeting in the Lander school Monday evening instead of the regular date, Tuesday. LeRoy Schneck, program director of WNAE, will talk on tape and wire recordings; Mrs. A. A. Grant, Sugar Grove, will speak on the permanent health charts kept at the school, and Theodore Fox, Russell, will provide dulcimer music.

Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Steinke, Agnes Steinke, and Cathy Steinke, of St. Joseph, Mich., are visiting friends in Warren.

Regulations Cited For Wild Turkeys

Game Protector Dave Titus today called attention to the fact that wild turkeys may not be legally killed next week in Warren and adjoining counties where bears normally are hunted.

Regulations drawn up by the Game Commission provided an open season on wild turkeys from Nov. 1 through Saturday, Nov. 11, and then a closed period of one week's duration from Nov. 13 through Nov. 18 (bear season). Turkeys will then become legal game again on Monday, Nov. 20 with the season extending through Saturday, Nov. 25.

This is the first year in many a season that turkeys have been legal game in Warren county. The game protector said he had received reports of 12 birds killed, but added there were probably more kills which haven't been reported.

He said the small game kill so far this season has been light, probably due to the inclement weather.

FIELD & STREAM CLUB

The Warren Field & Stream club will hold its regular meeting Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Irvinedale school, Jackson street extension, when the following films will be shown: "Sky Fishing," "Famous Fish" and "The Outlaw."

50 Girls To Stage Community Chest Canteen Tag Days Campaign Quota Is Topped By $653.29

Approximately 50 girls gathered at the YMCA early this afternoon to pick up containers and tags to start the Warren Youth Canteen Tag Days through today and tomorrow.

James C. Hengst, "Y" secretary, and his committee of boys, will be on hand to distribute the material and make the various assignments to the girls. The boys will also have a lunch prepared for the workers at the "Y" between six and seven o'clock.

The purpose of the sales is to raise funds so that work on the canteen building can be continued and to give the people of Warren a chance to do their share in promoting this worth while project. A goal of $1,000 has been set for the two-day period by the youth unit sponsoring the sale.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our mother and grandmother, Mrs. Othone Johnson, who died on Nov. 11, 1941.

You can only have one mother. Patient, kind and true. No other friend in all the world. Will be as true to you.

For all her loving kindness. She asked nothing in return. If all the world desert you. To your mother you can turn.

So all I can do, dear mother. Is to go and tend your grave. And leave behind a token of love To the best mother God ever gave.

The Family.

New York Woman Is Slated for Defense Dept.

(From Page One)

Legion Griffith resigned his Defense Department post last September after President Truman dropped Louis Johnson from the cabinet office now held by Gen. Marshall. Griffith was a Johnson appointee. The president accepted the resignation yesterday, praising Griffith's services.

Griffith has accepted vice presidency of Allied Public Relations Associates, a New York firm, and will be in charge of its Washington office.

Mrs. Rosenberg has served in a number of high-level government positions since 1935, including posts as regional director of the NRA, the Social Security Administration, and the War Manpower Commission.

Born in Budapest, Hungary, she came to the United States in 1912 and was naturalized in 1919. She is 48.

Organ in Church at Tidouche Is Rebuilt

At the 11 a. m. service in Tidouche Presbyterian church Sunday, the rebuilt organ will be used for the first time by Mrs. Harold Konkle, organist, and Dr. W. J. Prout, pastor, will preach on "The Miracle of Sounds".

The old organ has done valiant service for over 40 years and finally it was necessary to rebuild it with a new and completely modern action. It was built by Hook and Hastings of Boston, one of the leading builders of such instruments in the United States. The great organ in the Riverside church in New York, as well as many other famous instruments, was built by this distinguished firm, which has since gone out of business.

The organ in the Tidouche church possessed many ranks of pipes which were even better than those made now by any firm and it was deemed wise to keep them, together with some parts of the case, but otherwise the organ is completely new.

The contract for rebuilding was given to the Tellers Organ Company of Erie. The console is detachable and will be on the floor level, thus providing more space for the choir pews installed to replace the chairs formerly used.

visit with teachers and commended the work displayed. Second grade mothers of the PTA served coffee and cookies.

Home street teachers felt gratified with the turnout at their building yesterday afternoon, since their enrollment is around 200 and they greeted between 140 and 150 visitors during regular class sessions.

Parents and friends "went to school" at regular class periods Thursday afternoon at South street school, also, where visitors number 170.

Six Warren High School students from history classes taught by J. R. Reddehoff, or the democratic action-centered education plan, have held panel discussions at the luncheon-meetings of three local service clubs this week on "Warren High School's Part in Building Good Citizens".

At Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis sessions, as part of the Education Week observance, Patricia Larson, Bonnie Nathan, Sally Reed, David Berdine, George Glander and Robert Peterson talked on what the school is doing and handled an open question period. George Glander served as moderator for the pupils, who were selected by their classmates.

The democratic action-centered education plan, sometimes called the Miami plan, under which these students are studying history, sets up the study of separate aspects of American history from their beginning to the present. Training to meet present day problems by stimulation of thoughtful reasoning and development of proper attitudes is the goal.

coast strike, which began yesterday at 6 a. m. local time. Long distance calls and manually operated service were disrupted in some areas.

Scattered talk of "jamming" the phone system came to a head last night in the San Francisco-Oakland area, where strikers and their friends were urged to employ the strategy.

They could do this by placing successive calls until long distance operators fell far behind—and mechanical equipment could not clear the calls at such a rate.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Police were alerted today to prevent any further picket line flareups as Pennsylvania CIO Communications Workers continued their strike—part of a nationwide walkout.

The only violence reported on the first day of the work stoppage yesterday occurred in Pittsburgh. Two off-duty policemen were booed as they crossed picket lines to pay telephone bills. A fight followed and both policemen, Robert Montgomery, 28, and Carl Lubman, 29, were suspended pending a hearing on charges they were disorderly and "under the influence of alcohol."

Red counterattacks last week, the Allies had moved to the border at one point and 15 miles from it at another.

A U. S. Eighth Army spokesman reported the Chinese appeared to be establishing a defense line in the mountains. He added that they had taken considerable losses from aerial and artillery fire.

An estimate of some 60,000 Chinese Red troops just across the Yalu river border in Communist Manchuria was revised upward to 300,000 by the spokesman.

General MacArthur's spokesman estimated Thursday 60,000 Chinese and about that many organized North Koreans faced United Nations forces.

Communist China radio broadcasts forces south of the Yalu in casts called the Chinese troops "volunteers."

The world anxiously awaited the U. N. security council's action on a resolution demanding that Red China withdraw its troops. The U. S., Britain and France were among the resolution sponsors.

The U. S. state department directed that visas be issued to nine Chinese Communist representatives en route to Lake Success for discussions of Red charges of American aggression against Formosa.

However, the U. S., asked that charges of China's intervention in the Korean conflict be taken up Friday—ahead of the Chinese delegation's arrival.

Vacation Rights Of Veterans Left Undecided By Court

Washington—(AP)—The Supreme Court refused to lay down a flat rule for figuring the vacation rights of veterans who return to their old jobs.

The effect of the tribunal's action is to set up a double standard for the time being at least.

One—for veterans in Ohio, Michigan, Kentucky and Tennessee—holds that time spent in uniform may not be computed as time worked for purposes of determining vacation time.

The other—for veterans in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and the Virgin Islands—holds that vacation time is to be figured as if the veteran had never been gone off to war.

The Justice Department asked for the ruling. It noted that U. S. Circuit Courts in Cincinnati and Philadelphia have handed down directly conflicting opinions.

Circuit Court decisions are treated as final by other courts in their jurisdiction unless the Supreme Court overturns them. The high tribunal has insisted its refusal to review a lower court's decision does not mean that it approves of that court's finding, but that is the practical effect until another test arises and is decided.

The department appealed to the high court on behalf of Roy Brown, a veteran who went back to his old job with the Watt Car and Wheel Company, of Barnesville, Ohio. Under a collective bargaining agreement, the company gave one week's vacation with pay to employees having at least one year's service. Those with five years or more get two weeks' vacation with pay.

The company gave Brown a one-week vacation. He said if his military service time were treated as continuous employment with the company he would get credit for five years and receive two weeks' vacation.

FACE SERIOUS CHARGE

A young couple from Butler county has been accused of assisting three youths in an escape from the Polk State School near Franklin. State Police Sergeant George Sifter said Jack Rice, 25, and his 17-year-old bride, provided the boys with jobs near Rice's Evans City home after their Labor Day escape from the school for mentally deficient youths. Sifter said one of the youths was picked up for questioning involving the molesting of a girl. The questioning led to discovery that he had come from the Polk School and had since been living with the Rice couple. Rice and his young wife were charged before Justice of the Peace Ed Balmer of Franklin with aiding the escape of inmates from an institution.

Hal Boyle's Comment

U. S. Seventh Division Headquarters, Korea—(AP)—The Korean Reds had an ingenious aerial supply system that swung huge buckets of food and supplies over lofty mountains of troops 25 miles away.

It is an electrically operated conveyor system that carried enough stuff to keep thousands of soldiers eating every day.

The supply end of the revolving cable system was taken by an American patrol Tuesday about 10 miles east of Oungsan, a small settlement near a reservoir and warehouses in northeast Korea.

The operator was captured and tons of supplies were confiscated. They included 100 tons of rice, 100 tons of dried fish, 100 tons of soy beans, 25 tons of nitrate, 10 tons of barley, three tons of tea and two tons of rope.

A second patrol went after the unloading end of the conveyor system but found the Reds had abandoned positions there.

Capt. E. N. Anderson, 31, of Ferris St., Lawton, Okla., flew from one end of the conveyor system to the other. He reported: "The conveyor resembled those at winter resorts to carry skiers to the top of the run, but these were a lot bigger."

"The towers, which look like oil derricks, were spaced about 50 yards apart and were perched on hill tops. The buckets rode along above the tree tops."

Anderson estimated that each bucket extending from revolving cables would "hold at least one hundred gallons."

An intelligence officer in division headquarters said the conveyor apparently was intended originally to haul lumber across the mountains.

He said it was similar to some in Japan.

Anderson said the conveyor extended north through enemy territory for several miles, then turned west and followed the south banks of the Ungi to another reservoir northwest of Pungsan.

The reconnaissance patrol which made the discovery was sent out from Pungsan, now in the hands of elements of the Seventh Division's Seventeenth Regiment Combat team.

The intelligence officer said the conveyor had been in operation

Jaycees Chapter In Titusville Planning For Charter Night

Titusville has organized a Junior Chamber of Commerce which will be chartered by the state organization next Thursday, November 16th at a dinner and ceremonies.

The Titusville chapter was organized by an extension committee from the Warren Junior Chamber which has been visiting that city for the past two months. The new chapter will be the 68th club in Pennsylvania and the first to be organized under the administration of President Vernon Ferster, of Hanover.

Mr. Ferster will be in Titusville to present the charter along with National Director Joe Davidson of Butler, state vice president Charles Tranter, Warren, and delegations of Jaycees from Warren and Erie.

The extension committee from Warren which organized Titusville is headed by Alex Fino, chairman, Glen Nelson, Dave Levine, John Newmaker, and Ken Carlson. Charles Gum, teacher in Titusville schools, has been elected the first president of the new chapter.

Armistice Day in 1950

Today, when war in a far distant country becomes "a police action"; when our youth face training for war in order that our nation may be strong enough to help to maintain peace throughout the world; when world peace, which we so ardently desire, seems to rest on such a precarious footing . . . it may be wise to give some thought to the lessons of those less complicated times of the First World War . . . and to the welcome day which marked its conclusion.

ARMISTICE DAY

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 11

This year Armistice Day comes to find us facing another threat from tyrannical armies. It finds us, too, accepting this challenge, as did those brave Americans in past years. In such manner is democracy defended. Not by depriving others and ourselves of liberty, but by defeating those who would deprive us. Today we are mustering all of our might and joining forces with our allies. Today we are meeting this threat to liberty in all parts of the world, fighting this many-headed monster of decadence wherever we can, aware that our kind of liberty never loses.

MENU SUGGESTIONS

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Learn how to carve that succulent Thanksgiving bird without a nervous breakdown. Here are the six steps:

1. Remove leg (thigh or second joint and drumstick). Hold the drumstick firmly with fingers, pulling gently away from turkey body. At the same time cut through skin between leg and body.
2. Press leg away from body with flat side of knife. Then cut through joint joining leg to back bone and skin on the back. Hold leg on service plate with drumstick at a convenient angle to plate. Separate drumstick and thigh by cutting down through the joint to the plate.
3. Slice drumstick meat. Hold drumstick upright at a convenient angle to plate and cut down, turning drumstick to get uniform slices. Chicken drumstick or thigh are usually served without slicing.
4. Slice thigh meat. Hold thigh firmly on plate with a fork. Cut slices of meat parallel to the bone.
5. Cut into white meat parallel to wing. Make a cut deep into the breast to the body frame parallel to and as close to the wing as possible.
6. Slice white meat. Beginning at front, starting halfway up the breast, cut thin slices of white meat down to the cut made parallel to the wing. The slices will fall away from the turkey as they are cut to this line. Continue carving until enough meat has been carved for first servings.

For a novel and seasonal first course, try this pumpkin soup:

Pumpkin Soup
(Serves 10)

One and one-half cups cooked or canned pumpkin, 3 cups chicken broth, 1 1/2 tablespoons grated onion, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/4 teaspoon ginger, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon black pepper, 1 tablespoon dried parsley flakes, 1 1/2 cups heavy cream, 3 egg yolks, 3/4 cup Madeira wine or water, minced chives.

Combine pumpkin, broth, onion, nutmeg, ginger, salt, pepper and parsley flakes in top of double boiler. Bring almost to boil and set over hot water. Cook 10 minutes, stirring several times. Combine cream and yolks. Add hot mixture gradually, stirring constantly. Return to double boiler and cook 5 minutes more, stirring constantly until slightly thickened. Add wine or water. Place in soup tureen or serving dishes. Garnish with sprinkle of chives and a few leaves of mint.

MONDAY'S MENU
BREAKFAST: Tomato juice, ready-to-eat cereal, French toast, syrup, coffee, milk.
LUNCHEON: Casserole of spaghetti and leftover chicken in cheese sauce, raw carrot sticks, stewed pears, molasses cookies, tea, milk.
THANKSGIVING DINNER: Pumpkin soup, salty crackers, roast turkey, mushroom and rice stuffing, giblet gravy, cranberry jelly, whipped potatoes, frozen lima beans, white onions with grated cheese, water-cress and orange salad, apple pie, ice cream, cheese, coffee, milk.

CHEAP TRICK ISN'T ALWAYS A BARGAIN

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

Your normal tendency is to win a trick as cheaply as possible. A good thing, too, because if you squandered cards when winning tricks, you would lose most doubtful contracts. Nevertheless, it is sometimes necessary to win a trick as expensively as possible to keep from getting in your own way later on. Today's hand is a case in point.

If West had opened a spade, South's hash would have been settled very quickly. There would have been no play to avoid the loss of two spades, a diamond, and a club. However, there was no way for West to know that the spade lead would be so much better than the club.

East also had a chance to save the defense after he won the first trick with the ace of clubs. However, a spade return looked very dangerous to him. Moreover, there was the chance that his partner had opened a singleton club. He therefore returned a club at the second trick.

Dummy won the second trick with the queen of clubs and returned a low heart. When East showed out, South won with the king and considered matters afresh. He had hoped to draw trumps in three rounds, discard a spade from dummy on the king of clubs and then give up a diamond and a spade. This plan could not be followed, since all of dummy's trumps would have to be used up to draw those held by West.

South therefore led the king of clubs at once, hoping that West could follow suit once more. Unfortunately for declarer, West ruffed—and here was where South had to be extravagant rather than economical. He had to ruff with dummy's ace of trump!

That left two low trumps in dummy. He could lead back one of these low trumps to his own hand in order to lead a diamond. West played low, and dummy won with the queen of diamonds. Then dummy's remaining low trump could be led back to South's own hand and the last diamond could be returned towards dummy.

Now West could not defeat the contract. If he ducked, South would lose no diamonds and could well afford to give up two spades. If West put up his ace of diamonds, dummy's king would be good later on and would afford South a spade discard.

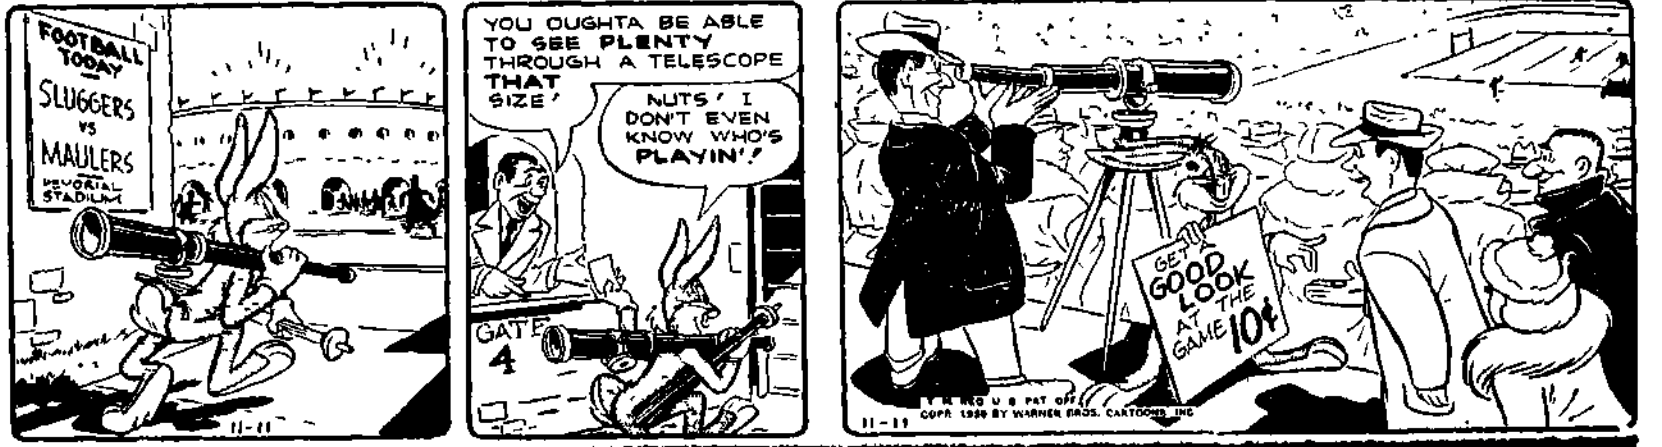

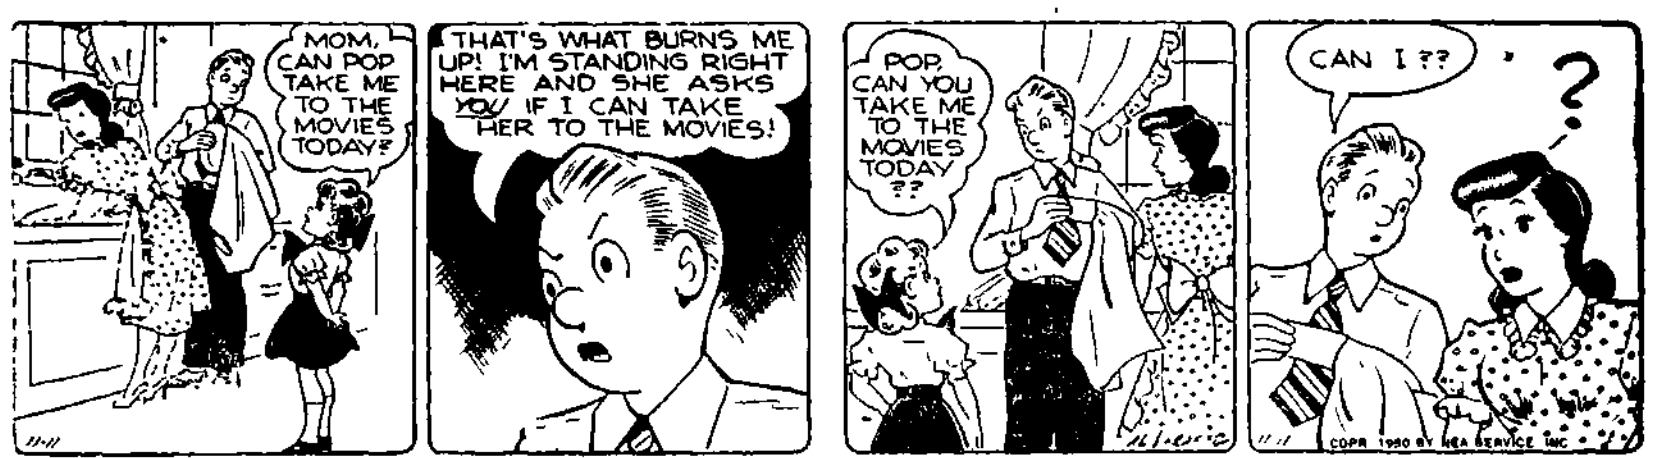

If dummy had ruffed with a low trump at the fourth trick (instead of with the ace), there would have been only one low trump in dummy. South could reach his hand for one diamond lead, but then would be stuck in dummy. It would do him no good to lead diamonds from the dummy, and he would wind up losing two spades, a diamond and a club.

Trio Is Setting New Marks On Gridiron

St. Bonaventure—The high-flying offensive trio of St. Bonaventure University quarterback Ted Marchbroda, halfback Jerry Hanlin and end Jack Butler, established all-time Bonaventure records every time they get their hands on the ball.

Marchbroda, a sophomore, has exceeded the Bonaventure passing mark set by Chris Scaturro last season in seven games to date. Marchbroda has connected on 71 of 135 attempts for 1230 yards. Scaturro's mark for nine games was 638 yards.

The Franklin are currently leading the east in passing. His closest rival is Charley Maloy of Holy Cross with 1110 yards gained on 35 completions out of 154 attempts.

Hanlin, a ghost-like speedster, has netted 555 yards rushing for an average carry of 8.3 yards. This total puts him 63 yards over the previous Bonaventure record set in nine games last season by Leo Jaggerty.

The third record-smasher on the team is Butler, who has pulled in 11 of Marchbroda's passes for 187 yards. Previous to the mark now held by Butler, Frank Lovullo's 278 yards on eight catches represented the Bonaventure record.

The Indians will put their high-powered offensive machine into action against the University of Toledo Rockets tomorrow at Forbes Stadium. Kickoff is at 2 p. m.

SHOP LEAGUE (Arcade)

Merlon Moore, topping the sticks for Decker and Iseman, laced up three two-century games (213-233-201) for a nifty 647 total and a new seasonal scoring mark in Shop League competition last night.

Leo Salemo, of the Arcade team, also cracked the 600 scoring ring, with 161-216-229-606. Elmer Wilson was credited with 187-166-211-564 for Decker and Iseman, while Howard Clark led the Maines with 167-157-225-549.

Match results: Maines 4, 549.

Arcade 0 Decker & Iseman 4, Joe's Used Cars 0.

Decker & Iseman is far out in front in this four-team loop with a 30 and 2 rating.

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE (Penn)

Two new seasonal scoring marks were chalked up in Commercial Tenpin League firing last night. First of the marks was a high three-game total of 636 sticks, totted by Roy Krebs of the Coes Paint team. He hit for games of 186-223 and 227.

The second scoring mark was a high single game of 255, credited to Pete Juliano of the Rudolph Barber team. Pete also fired games of 148 and 185 for a 588 aggregate.

Other nifty three-game series last night included 230-178-204-612 for Tom Masterson Coe's, and 198-144-252-585 for Henry Wyman, Templetons.

Match results were Pleasant Valley Inn 3, Olson-Bjers 1, Coes Paints 3, Templetons 1, Struthers Wells 3, Sherwood Redners 1, Penn Restaurant 3, Rudolph Barb-ers 1.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

By The Associated Press

—BASEBALL—

New York—Sam Jethroe, Boston Braves outfielder, was voted rookie of the year in the National League for 1950 by the Baseball Writers' Association.

Seattle—Rogis Hoinshy, former manager of Beaumont, was named pilot of the Seattle Rainiers of the Pacific Coast League.

—FOOTBALL—

Austin, Tex.—Blair Cherry announced he will resign at the end of this season as head football coach at the University of Texas.

—RACING—

Inglewood, Calif.—Willie Shoemaker, pacing the nation's jockeys with 319 winners, drew a blank in six lines at Hollywood Park. Messalina ($8) won the six furlong feature.

Baltimore—Joe Culmone rode two winners at Pimlico, including Lucky Ned ($8) in the featured Maturing Sun purse, to boost his 1950 total to 315—four behind the pacemaker Willie Shoemaker.

New York—Curruhinca ($19.50) won the Highlands Classified Handicap, feature of the Empire City-at-Jamaica program.

—GOLF—

Savannah, Ga.—Melon Marusic, virtually unknown pro from Albany, N. Y., knocked three strokes from the course competitive record with an eight-under-par 64 for the first day lead in the $10,000 Savannah open tournament.

—GENERAL—

Milwaukee—Gusie Moran finally won her first match in pro tennis tour beating Pauline Betz Addie, 6-4.

Durham, N. C.—Harold Bradley, basketball coach at Hartwick (N. Y.) College, was named coach at Duke University succeeding Kenneth Gerard.

Milestone in a Career!

We see it happen over and over again—and it's one of the greatest satisfactions we enjoy in this happy business of selling Cadillac cars.

It's when a man comes into possession of his first Cadillac—and we see the wonderful things it does for him.

We see his happiness as he places his order—not as the result of a sudden inspiration, but because he has gradually reached the conclusion that he has earned the right to enjoy the unquestioned best.

And then we see him on that happy day when his car is available for delivery—and he settles himself so proudly behind the wheel.

He's a little quizzical, we sometimes note. Could it be, he wonders, that he has been anticipating a bit too much? And then he's out in the street—headed for home the long way 'round.

Those are thrilling days that follow.

There's the first long ride with the family... the first trip to the office... and the time he learns, in an emergency, that his car is worth its whole price in safety alone.

And then, almost before he knows it, the odometer registers a thousand miles—and he's back to tell us all about it. And, perhaps, to grumble a little bit at giving it up—even for a little while!

Yes, it's a priceless privilege to watch all this. Makes a man feel that he's doing good.

Former High Cage Star In Next Draft

Included in the next Warren county draft contingent, which will leave next Wednesday morning for induction in Erie, will be Dick Harris, former Warren High basketball star.

Dick is the 22 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert D. Harris, 31 Buchanan street, and has been employed since June, 1949, as assistant sports editor of the Jamestown Post-Journal.

Working there for nearly a year and a half, Dick has made many friends in the community and was general chairman of the Soap Box Derby races held in Jamestown last July. He also played with the popular Jamestown Vikings basketball team during the '49-'50 season.

Back in Warren High where Dick graduated in the Class of '46, his chief interest was basketball, in which he was tops. A two-year letterman, he played varsity ball in both his sophomore and senior years and with the National Forge in the "Y" League during his junior year.

In 1946 he helped lead the Dragons to the semi-finals in state Class A competition and won recognition as a forward on the all-state team. He was also the third high scorer on the Warren team that year, with 176 points.

From August of 1944 to May, 1946, Dick was the sports editor of the Times-Mirror, capably combining studies, responsibilities as team captain and his work in the newspaper business as a part-time sports writer for the Washington Observer.

From the time Dick was old enough to play his favorite sport, you could always find him on the "Y" gym floor. He has never been able to stay away from the game for any great period and those who know him best will be looking for his name on an Army five any day now.

HIGHLIGHTS on SPORTS

By LOU CARLSON

Sonia Henie—Ice Queen

Sonia Henie, who had already held the title of World's Champion Ice Skater for five years, added another triumph at Lake Placid, N. Y., in February 1932, when she danced on skates to another championship for herself and Norway, with a magnificent performance in figure skating.

Sonia, a beautiful sight to behold in shimmery white velvet, satin and ermine, spotted with rhinestones, was a perfect model for an artist to paint as the "Queen of Ice Skates."

Sonia glided on the ice to start the five minute event for elective figures, and within a few seconds the onlookers realized they were witnessing the performance of a real artist. She gave her own version of the difficult Jackson Hains spin several times, then the Lutz Jump and Alex Paulsen, a turn and a half in the air before landing on one foot. Executing difficult tumps, spins, spirals and dance steps that were almost impossible for others, she captured the hearts of the spectators as they gasped in amazement, then wildly cheered for their Queen.

At Carlson's Service Stores we offer you a selection of used cars that will give magnificent and dependable performance and are covered by a guarantee. Before you decide on any car come in and inspect our display. You will be well pleased.

POWER-LADEN RIVALS TANGLE AT BERKELEY

Berkeley Calif., Nov. 10.—(P)—Championship standings and Rose Bowl chances will be at stake here tomorrow when the undefeated California Bears and the once-beaten University of California at Los Angeles Bruins clash in their all-important coast conference football classic.

It's the "game of the year" for the two powerful rivals.

A capacity crowd of 51,000 is expected to watch the contest.

Traditional rivalry of the keenest sort adds color to the annual encounter. The Bruins were once the "baby brothers" of the bears. They've grown up long since. Under Henry "Red" Sanders the former Vanderbilt coach, they have been downright formidable the past two years.

PITT PANTHERS TO BATTLE NOTRE DAME

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 10.—(P)—Notre Dame's football team, on the comeback trail, plays win-hungry Pittsburgh here tomorrow before an expected capacity crowd.

The Irish boosted their season rating to 500 in six games with a victory last week over Navy. After Pitt, they play Iowa and Southern California.

Pittsburgh has won only one game this season, beating West Virginia last week, 21-7. But their conquerors include some of the best teams in the country. They've lost to Duke, Ohio State, Rice, Northwestern and Miami.

All tickets to the game in Notre Dame stadium have been sold, indicating a crowd of 57,000 will see the contest.
